

Aero Resources Re-launches Business to Include Expanded Services

Aero Resources re-launches virtual aircraft scheduling and dispatching business to help reemerging flight departments grow; expands services to include charter brokering and flight department consulting

Chicago, IL (PRWEB) October 6, 2010

Aero Resources, LLC, a virtual flight department for aircraft scheduling and dispatching, has re-launched its core business, adding additional services that include aircraft charter brokering, flight department consulting and set-up services, personnel training, and more.

Aero Resources offers a virtual outsourced solution for corporate flight departments that are not large enough for a full-time scheduler/dispatcher (including small Part 91 aircraft) but are too busy for the flight crew to handle alone. Outsourced scheduling and dispatch services from Aero Resources includes trip itineraries, custom catering, flight tracking, ground transportation, reservations, advanced crew and passenger lodging arrangements, and even back-up charter aircraft.

"Our virtual flight department is the first of its kind in the business and corporate aviation industry," said Michael Dagnino, owner of Aero Resources. "Whether a flight department is just small or is slowly recovering from the hard hits of the economy, we offer a great resource to help them run as lean as possible and still get the job done. It's like having an in-house scheduler and dispatcher, but without the overhead associated with a full-time employee."

Outsourced scheduling and dispatch services can be custom tailored to fit a flight department's needs, such as per-trip, monthly, bi-annual, and yearly rates for all fleet sizes. Also, existing corporate flight departments can utilize Aero Resources to cover vacations, time between employees, or as a source of additional support when needed.

As a charter brokerage firm, Aero Resources utilizes its network of operators to find aircraft that best fits the client's needs, taking into account number of passengers, destinations, budget, efficiency, and luxury. Their charter network includes a wide variety of aircraft such as helicopters, turbo-props, and light jets up through heavy jets including airliners. Aero Resources follows strict safety standards, ensuring all aircraft and crew have been evaluated by their on-staff air charter specialist, as well as screened by outside auditing firms such as ARG/US and Wyvern.

"As we watch the aviation industry recover from the recession, we identified a need to diversify the services we could offer our clients," said Dagnino. "Our personalized air charter service offers solutions far beyond what typical flight departments can provide. And beyond that, our consulting and training services give clients access to our years of industry experience and knowledge, which leads to a solid and efficient internal flight department."

About Aero Resources, LLC

Founded in 2009 by an experienced FAA-certified flight dispatcher, Aero Resources is headquartered outside Chicago, Illinois, and handles all of the scheduling and dispatch responsibilities so your flight crew can focus on the trip. Aero Resources provides its clients with unrivaled first-class virtual flight department services and all of the benefits of a full-time employee without the overhead costs. In addition to outsourced scheduling and dispatch, Aero Resources provides aircraft charter brokering, flight department consulting and set-up services, personnel training, and more. For more information regarding Aero Resources, call 312-436-1743, e-mail info\(at\)aeroresources.biz, or visit www.aeroresources.biz.